

Carpool — Schapiro & Brown

Just the two of us. We alternate week to week and whoever is up drives both ways. The one exception is the opening Tuesday, which we split — Brown out, Schapiro back — so seventeen Tuesdays come out dead even.

The split

Brown
17 legs · 8 whole Tuesdays + 1 leg

Schapiro
17 legs · 8 whole Tuesdays + 1 leg

Why the opener is shared. Seventeen Tuesdays don’t halve. Splitting the first one and alternating whole days after it leaves us on 17 legs each — exactly even, no odd Tuesday to argue over.

Swapping. Trade a date between the two of you whenever it helps; the printed order doesn’t need to change.
